

Seven steps to make a holiness summit successful:

1. Pray and depend on God (remember this is a “God thing” we are joining, not a manmade event we creating).
2. Develop a simple program:
 - a. Bring together individuals who are passionate about the holiness message and are prepared to deliver a powerful sermon that will call people to holiness;
 - b. Plan for a prayer time after each sermon to allow people to respond to what they have heard.
3. Keep expenses low:
 - a. Involve volunteers as much as possible;
 - b. Find inexpensive venues;
 - c. Focus on people and the message, not on a professional atmosphere.
 - d. Promote via e-mail and existing Web sites.
4. Simplify the registration process
 - a. Do not require participants to pre-register – provide them a card upon arrival that they can fill out and return at their convenience
 - b. Do not charge a registration fee – allow offerings to cover expenses.
5. Simplify the lodging and food logistics
 - a. Allow participants to secure their own lodging and meals
 - b. If you like, you can provide them with a list of hotels and restaurants in your area.
6. Plan for further multiplication.
7. Clearly communicate the goal of multiplication
 - a. Before event – in promotion;
 - b. Continually during event;
 - c. After the event.
